[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO DECEMBER 30.

London Dispatches.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—The Germans in the Eastern Department are retreating. They have already evacuated the town of Gray, in the valley of the Savne.

A proclamation has been issued by the Prussian Government placing under blockade all the ports of France now occupied or hereafter captured by the German forces. The harbor of Keil is closed by ice.

The Paris press are opposed to the participation of France in the proposed Congress of Powers on the Eastern question.

The Danubian Principalities.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 26.—The declaration of the independence of the Danubian Principalities has been announced here and causes a profound sensation.

English Discrimination Against France

LONDON, Dec. 29.—The Tribune's special says the English Government, upon application of Count Bernstoff, stopped the ship chartered by the French Government to lay a submarine cable to connect Dunkirk, Cherbourg, Brest and Bordeaux. The ship was given in charge of the custom house officers on the Thames. The cable on board was seized. Three hours after the first notice of this embargo, application was made for the release of the ship which was refused.

WAR MISCELLANY.

The St. Petersburg Gazette says of the attitude of Russia that nobody in that country desires war, but that all classes would rather consent to war than to a humiliating reaction before English threats.

The London Economist of November 26th says that "so long as France resists as now, Russia can have no hope from Prussia or Count Bismarck. They have their hands quite full, and more than full, already."

A London journal says that in private M. Thiers speaks of Count Bismarck as a powerful statesman, but for the rest, a "barbarian." The Count laughs in his turn at French civilization. Here's a falling out of doctors, truly.

In the foreign legion which fought on the French side at Orleans, on the 1[illegible] of October were 170 young Polanders, of [illegible] family. Most of them fell in that battle, as had already fallen many others of that nationality at Sedan and elsewhere.

A dispatch from Marseilles announces the arrest of General Cluseret and of George Francis Train for having been implicated in the recent attempt on the life of M. Gent, the new Prefect of that city. The man who fired the shot, a journeyman mason, was arrested.

Says the Dublin Irishman, exultingly looking forward to an Anglo-Russian complication: "Without a doubt, America will act the part of a benevolent neutral towards Russia—of a hostile neutral towards England—and what that means a swarm of Alabamas may very disagreeably explain."

[illegible] attitude has drawn from the London Times a characteristic deprecatory British whine. "A time must come," it says, "when the greatest blessing for a majority of the human race will be the united and friendly action of England and Russia." How the galled jade does wince when her withers are wrung!

The Courrier des Ardennes, reporting a recent exploit of certain Franc-tireurs between Rethel and Sedan, remarks, in the way of encouragement, that if there were in France 60,000 Franc-tireurs, and each of them were to kill a single Prussian every two days, in twenty days France would be delivered from the presence of the enemy. This seems likely, as 600,000 Prussians would be thus taken off.

At the annual fair at Mons, France, a raree-show, with mechanical figures, is on exhibition, which represents the Emperor Napoleon delivering his sword to a sort of grotesque, savage-looking object, intended to represent King William, with this Homeric legend attached: "Sire, I surrender my sword, because I do not feel brave enough to fight any longer!"

Advices from Paris dated the 6th inst. say: The full accounts of the engagements commencing November 28th and ending on the 3d inst., [illegible] more was accomplished than the authorities had expected. The discipline, steadiness and elan of the troops were a full match for the Germans. The result of the fighting in the large circle of investment in the east, south and southeast, is that all the positions taken remain in the possession of the French, or under the command of their guns.

The French papers announce the return to Europe of the sailing frigate Sybille from a voyage round the world. The commander was only allowed to remain at St. Helena for a space of twelve hours to obtain supplies, but upon proceeding again to sea, effected several captures of German merchant vessels, three of which are valuable prizes—the Mobil, from the Chinese Seas; the Neptun, from Costa Rica, and the Wilberforce, from India. The total estimated values of these captures is $400,000.

Dr. Russell, in his correspondence from Versailles to the London Times of November 22d, says that the Germans cannot speak for anger when they allude to the question of exportation of arms from other countries to be used for the benefit of the French. "It is by British cannon and bullets our soldiers fall," they shout. If it is interpolated, "and America too," they answer, "Yes, but America is four thousand miles away;" (Heaven be thanked that it is!) "you are at the door of France. Why don't you send men to hold your guns at once?"

Minister Motley wrote Secretary Fish, August 17, that on the 9th he sent a telegram in these words: "It is an authenticated fact that the French Government telegraphed to London yesterday to know if General Lee is here, or whether he is expected. The supposition is that a military command is to be offered him. I am not aware that General Lee is in London, or that he is expected here. The fact, however, that the French Government should show such anxiety to obtain military talent from so distant a quarter, would seem to argue some want of confidence in the government of their armies."

Another batch of the Emperor's dispatches, found at St. Cloud by the Prussians, has been published. Even as late as the 20th of July, as was shown by the dispatches, a telegram was sent from Metz complaining of the absence of many articles of provisions. The Third Corps which was to leave for the frontier, was unprovided with hospital appliances of any kind; the Fourth Corps had no canteens, vehicles or ambulances at Thionville, and Toul was entirely unprovided. These, and similar facts, tell the whole story of the utter lack of preparation for war which placed France at the mercy of the enemy when the war was declared.

A curious story is told in a French paper of one French soldier who escaped from Metz, and of five German soldiers who were en route to that town. The story is intended to illustrate the delicacy of the Frenchman and the voracity of the German soldiers, who were Pomeranians. The Frenchman, in his flight, stopped at a farm-house in a starving condition. He contented himself with an ordinary ration, modestly saying, "this will do for twenty-four hours." On the same day five Prussian soldiers stopped at the same house and demanded food. They removed their belts in order to eat more at ease. One of them so gorged himself that he could not rebuckle it, and he was compelled to ask the assistance of his comrades to aid him. Three of them pulled at the belt and the fourth man buckled it. Such is life.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Gambetta's Movements.

BORDEAUX, Dec. 29.—The presence of Gambetti has given impetus to the forwarding of troops. Many have gone to-day from South France. A number of new cannon has been forwarded to Bourbaki's army, which is marching to cut the Prussian's communications. Chauzy sent a column to Montorie, driving the Prussians several miles, taking prisoners and killing a number. Gambetti desired no reception of him here. Cold continues.

London Dispatches.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—The French continue to defend Canabray. Two thousand Prussians are at St. Quentin and Mont Arras.

Prince Ghika forms a ministry at Burcharest.

General Pettingets arrived at Havre from Bordeaux to superintend defenses.

The Prussians will give indemnity in bonds to owners of vessels destroyed in the Seine, but decline indemnity to sailors.

News from Paris.

ROCHE SUR YONNE, Dec. 29.—A balloon from Paris has landed here.

The P[illegible] yesterday seriously attacked Rosney Nogent and Mont Avron. They unmasked some seige batteries and attempted bombardment, but were repulsed with heavy loss.

The moral condition of Paris is excellent.

General War News.

ROCROI, Dec. 29.—The artillery at Mezieres prevents the Prussians from establishing their batteries. Accounts show that the Prussian and French troops have suffered terribly from cold. In order to replace the French troops thus incapacitated, strong reinforcements have been sent; also vast quantities of material to increase the comfort of the troops.

VERSAILLES, Dec. 29.—The 12th corps occupied Mount Avron after one day's bombardment. The French left behind them many gun carriages, rifles and dead troops.

MADRID, Dec. 29. Seven of the eight balls have been extracted from Prim's shoulder. He lost two fingers.

BEAUSANCON, Dec. 29.—Freshets confine the the population to the right bank of the Doubs.

At Belfort a successful sortie was made. The Prussians were punished.

An Attempt to be Made to Relieve Paris

LONDON, Dec. 30.—[illegible] estimate the [illegible] number of French troops [illegible] Bourbaki's command is charged especially with the duty of revictualling Paris, and has already or [illegible] a vast amount of live stock and provisions for this purpose. At the proper moment the army will make a desperate effort to [illegible] and reunite the army of the [illegible] which was then with great energy push [illegible] Paris.

General [illegible] the meddling of politicians who persuaded Gambetta to interfere with his military operations.

Granville has received an official dispatch from the French Government at Bordeaux, in which France declares its determination not to send delegates to a Peace Conference to be held in London, unless the British Government shall first recognize the Republic. A dispatch of a similar tone has been sent to each of the other powers.

Advices from Madrid state that General Prim announced his intention to resign in person to King Amadeus and retire to private life.

Dispatches from Versailles, received here, state that a general evacuation of the Department east of Paris, which had been occupied by the German troops, still continues. It is thought that this is done in order to concentrate the Prussian strength in and around Versailles.

The Attempt to Kill Prim.

MADRID, Dec. 30.—The press express abhorrence of Prim's attempted assassination, and have passed a vote of confidence in the Government. Prim is recovering.

Miscellaneous Dispatches.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Ice blockades the harbor of Copenhagen.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—Thos. O'Brien was today held to answer before the grand jury on the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon on his brother-in-law.

The steamer Pacific left early this morning for Santa Cruz to tow the Gussie Telfair to port.

Information has reached this city of the total destruction of the Carbon Coal mines in Wyoming Territory, together with the town of Carbon. The mines were directly under the Union Pacific Railroad, and furnished a large portion of [illegible] for the road and for the towns along the [illegible]. Sunday a smouldering fire in a deserted [illegible] caused an explosion which destroyed the shaft, and set fire to the mine. The fire raged with great vigor. The force on the Wyoming division of the U. P. railroad was summoned to extinguish the flames but could not succeed. The coal bed laid only fifty feet below the surface and the result was that the bottom of the town burned out.

The citizens deserted the place. The mine will have to be abandoned, and the railroad company will have to build a track three miles long around the mine. The work of building the road is now progressing.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—General Cobb gave his testimony before Bankrupt Commissioner Bates, on the subject of the management of the City Bank, of which he was the first President. His evidence agreed with that of the other witnesses to the effect that Murphy carried the Bank around in his pocket, making loans, discounting, and paying depositors on the street. He thought that a good portion of the deposits went to pay Murphy's private debts. The testimony is now closed.

And in this connection we may state on the authority of a private letter from an eminent English firm, that the rates of insurance at London on cargo between New York and Bombay, have been reduced to 1½ per cent., and between New York and Calcutta 1½ per cent., against 2 and 3 per cent. demanded by our local underwriters. The transit agents in this country are prepared to effect insurance at these reduced rates.

Restoration of the Arlington Estate.

DEBATE IN THE UNITED STATES SENATE.

WASHINGTON, December 13th.

McCreery asked leave to introduce the resolution, notice of which he gave yesterday, proposing an investigation, with a view to the restoration of Arlington estate to the widow of General Robert E. Lee; the removal of grave-yards on the premises and the general restoration of any incumbrance placed there in the interest of the Government.

Edmunds hoped leave would not be granted. The proposition to dig up the bones of our dead soldiers in order that certain property might be given back to rebel owners was in his mind, perfectly monstrous.

McCreery then occupied twenty minutes on the [illegible]. He referred to the circumstances attending the recent decease of the foremost [illegible] late war—[illegible] friendly [illegible] generals up to [illegible] ion, when Thomas followed the starry emblem of the Union [illegible] or fall by the State that had given him birth and of the general sorrow and [illegible] which manifested itself in either section [illegible] the mournful intelligence of the [illegible]. He proceeded to eulogize the [illegible] military genius and valor of [illegible] remarking that the American people [illegible] never relinquish the property which [illegible] in the name and fame of the [illegible]. He was devoid of ostentation [illegible] testimony of [illegible] was singularly [illegible] of other men. His life was [illegible] Christian and gentleman. [illegible] those in the Senate who [illegible] from casting aspersions on General Lee's character, but all sections of the [illegible] eventually accord to him [illegible] deserts. The beloved partner [illegible] lived, and in her behalf justice [illegible] ed. She belonged [illegible] charity, but poverty [illegible] accept it. Would [illegible] barrier that [illegible] ton?

[illegible] That nation had fed clothed and educated him. That he had lived at the capital, and when the capital called upon him to defend the flag under which he had been born [illegible] and honored he deliberately turned his back upon and planted his cannon in sight of the capital he had sworn to protect and defend. But he [Edmunds] would not dignify the proposition by discussing it. Gen. Lee [illegible] the only regret [illegible] that right minded men would have was that General Lee had not died in his youth [illegible] that he [illegible] by the hand of [illegible] which penalty would have [illegible] for his crime.

[illegible] with the apparent object of the resolution. [illegible] the last [illegible] thousands of the Union dead [illegible] unprecedented [illegible] to deny a member a [illegible] leave to introduce any [illegible] the Senate.

[illegible] whether [illegible] could [illegible] flagrantly insulting [illegible] the Senate than that to remove the [illegible] bring [illegible] for the purpose of restoring the farm to [illegible]

[illegible] that when the resolution [illegible] of the nation it was not [illegible] personal sense insulting [illegible] the Senate.

[illegible] of the proposed [illegible] the other [illegible] Act which [illegible] were refused and the Vice [illegible]

[illegible] protested against the consideration [illegible] resolution. He had [illegible] what he [illegible] hear a eulogy upon the [illegible] Lee in the Senate of the [illegible] that [illegible] of the [illegible] should [illegible] the memories [illegible] at Arlington [illegible] their [illegible] less hallowed ground in [illegible] of the rights of the widow [illegible] rebel of the most wicked rebellion [illegible] history.

[illegible] The [illegible] of Hon. Stephen [illegible] those two Generals [illegible] that [illegible] there were but two classes in the nation [illegible] traitors. The patience with which the [illegible] States had [illegible] the chief conspirator in the attempt to [illegible] down the Government was but another illustration of the [illegible] mercy which had characterized the treatment by the Government of those engaged in the rebellion. Had the subject of that eulogy succeeded in his effort where would the American Senate now be sitting? Its triumph, slavery would have cast a dark shadow all over the land of freedom from the St. Lawrence to the Gulf of Mexico. To-day the doctrine of secession is buried [illegible] the bones of thousands who fell that their blood might seal the covenant of the nation. Yet to-day we behold a spectacle of the resurrectionist coming here to drag the dead doctrine out from beneath the bones of the nation's martyrs.

Sawyer said the Arlington estate, like thousands of acres of property South, had been forfeited and sold at public sale for non-payment of taxes, and bought by the United States. In the absence of any memorial from Mrs. Lee, he regarded the contemplated inquiry utterly worthless, as the facts stated were well known and need no verification.

Harlan and Patterson also opposed the resolutions. The former deprecated the day should it ever come, when equal solicitude shall be shown by Congress for the welfare of rebels and Unionists alike. The latter denounced the offer to rake up the bones of our valiant dead, in order to prepare a home for one who fled from it even before her husband, as an insult to the country. He said Gen. Lee had spit upon the nation's flag and hurled defiance in the face of the nation, and the request now made in behalf of his memory would, if regarded, be an outrage upon decency.

Salsbury disapproved of that part of the resolution looking to the removal of the graves from Arlington. He couldn't see that the merits of the cause in which General Lee engaged were in controversy. He regarded the question as one simply of the ability of a Senator to exercise his right to introduce business.

Thayer reminded the Senator that he has predicted that if the Congressional policy was not rigidly carried out in the Southern States, the day would come when the leaders of the rebellion would be honored in the United States Senate. In one sense, the day has come sooner than was expected.

Nye said that unseemly haste in certain quarters to restore traitors to power would result in no good. The verdict of to-day and posterity, is and will be that Gen. Lee was a [illegible] McCreery had de[illegible] Benedict Arnold, [illegible] what would have been thought of a man [illegible] proposed to restore to Benedict [illegible] Connecticut?

[illegible] remarks, spoke [illegible] who still lives [illegible] the light of recent events it [illegible] to expect, at an early [illegible] President.

[illegible] parliamentary law [illegible] the present occasion [illegible] with a view to [illegible] disposition of the resolution [illegible] say of Gen. Lee, [illegible] high on the cata[illegible] their hands in [illegible] was content to [illegible] pen of History [illegible] as indicative [illegible] associates, of [illegible] prefiguring [illegible] should they [illegible] power, a policy which was to take [illegible] the rebellion [illegible] to install it [illegible] make his [illegible] Massachusetts [illegible] Louisiana, it would be to warn his fellow countrymen, especially of the South, against that combination which now showed its hand in the [illegible] Senator from Kentucky. [illegible] Secretary Stanton [illegible] for the interment [illegible] Union soldiers at Arlington [illegible] Secretary Stanton [illegible] at the [illegible] selecting the place, which [illegible] of the [illegible] the Lee family there and that if they [illegible] they might encounter the ghosts of their victims. The epitaph above the grave of Shakspeare which has for two centuries and a half guarded the remains of England's greatest poet he would write above the graves [illegible] patriot dead:

[illegible]

After a slight applause in the galleries, McCreery [illegible] that he had introduced the resolution [illegible] with his colleague [illegible] and for his own [illegible] sentiments, he was responsible to his constituents and his God. At the instance of his colleague, he now asked leave to withdraw his resolution.

Edmunds raised a point that the yeas and nays having been already ordered the resolution became the property of the Senate and could not be withdrawn.

The Vice President stated the question to be upon the motion of McCreery for leave to introduce the resolution.

Davis moved to lay McCreery's motion on the table.

[illegible] felt satisfied that [illegible] would for a moment countenance the removal of those dead. He would never consent to such a proposition. In regard to the resolution, he would not vote for it, because it was not within the scope of Congressional jurisdiction. It belonged to the Judiciary. He regarded the Senator from Massachusetts [Sumner's] attempt to connect the Democracy with the resolution as most disingenuous. That Senator, in his desire to perpetuate prejudices founded upon sectional hatred, was willing to avail himself of any means to injure the only national party in the country.

[illegible] motion was then rejected, ayes, [illegible] noes, 49.

McCreery's request for leave to bring in the resolution was then refused. [illegible] the yeas were [illegible] of Maryland; [illegible] and Vickers.

[illegible] declined voting, believing the [illegible] belonged to every Senator.

Views of the Father [illegible]

[From the New York Tribune.]

[illegible] free traders are fond of quoting Jefferson as their father. He belongs to the Protectionists; and in the following quotation from his Message of November, 1806, we let him speak for himself.

[illegible] which we have been [illegible] compelled us to apply a portion of our industry and capital to internal manufactures and improvements. The extent of this conversion is daily increasing, and little doubt remains that the establishments formed and forming will, under the auspices of cheaper materials and subsistence, the freedom of labor from taxation with us, and of [illegible] become permanent.

In [illegible] Mr. Jefferson [illegible] letter to Benj. Austin of Massachusetts, confirms [illegible] opinions in [illegible] the policy of protecting American manufactures [illegible] what he calls the "American system."

Mr. Madison said:

If Congress have not the power to protect the home industry of the country, it is annihilated for the benefit of [illegible] of any other nation [illegible] solitary one in our [illegible].

[illegible] of men who are supposed to know something about the [illegible] of the United States.

[illegible] correspondent has been fortunate enough to "interview" Queen Augusta of Prussia, on the subject of the war and to have obtained from that excellent lady some of her [illegible] upon the questions at issue between France and Germany. From her remarks it appears that the Queen, who speaks fluently most of the European languages, is extremely kind of heart, and is a [illegible] partial to France and the French language. She did not blame Napoleon for the declaration of war, which she thought was due to the intrigues and [illegible] of the different political [illegible] two extreme [illegible] Red Republicans [illegible] was a [illegible] and it was seized upon eagerly by the political factions into which [illegible] each their [illegible] So little did they think [illegible] was on the eve of hostilities [illegible] of Prussia was one [illegible] the Emperor on the [illegible] The Queen [illegible] no share in the [illegible] and his advisers upon the terms of peace. The future security of [illegible] the imposition of terms [illegible] would be [illegible] rankling feeling of humiliation [illegible] for a renewal of the struggle. She also expressed the hope that Paris would not be bombarded, both as a matter of charity to the inhabitants and because of the [illegible] effect it would have upon the [illegible] of the two countries. In regard to the attentions shown to Napoleon at Wilhelmshohe, Queen Augusta remarked that all that had been done for the Emperor's comfort had been done by herself personally, and without any ulterior motive. There was no political understanding as to the future between the King and the Emperor, and it was absurd to suppose otherwise. In the course of the conversation she spoke very warmly of the dignity, prudence and tact of the Empress Eugenie since her exile.

At Metz, artillery and engineer officers have arrived from Berlin for the purpose of directing the armament and restoration of the forts on the Prussian system. A Governor, Commandant and Police Superintendent, have been appointed, and all the arrangements seem to be designed for a permanency, whereas at Nancy and other places they are temporary.

The Daily Oregonian.

SATURDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 31, 1870.

The Departing Year.

The old year goes out with to-day. We don't feel remarkably poetic or pathetic, either, about it. This is a practical world, and facts are facts. It is often the fashion to say something about the departure of the Old Year, and to indulge in prognostications about what the New Year is to do for us. But for our part, at least on this occasion, we are not going to take a retrospect nor anticipate for the future. Sidney Smith thought it was best to take short views of life, and not fret ourselves about that of which we can know nothing, and which may never happen, and he was about right. The future becomes the present sufficiently fast to keep us fully occupied with its duties and events. We say good bye to the Old Year and bid the New Year welcome, but we have no tears to waste on the one, nor do we indulge in great expectations of the other. After all, one year is pretty much like another. We grow a little older and the world changes year by year, but everything does not happen in a twelve-month. We doubt not 1871 will have its surprises for us all, but we don't care to anticipate them, and only hope it will leave us at its close no worse than it found us. If wishes were potent to affect human affairs, what a happy New Year it would be for everybody,—unless, indeed, the happiness of the French were to depend on the good wishes of the Germans, or vice versa. There is no harm in good wishes; on the contrary there is much good, for where we [illegible] wishing happiness to everybody, there is at least the pleasure and profit of generous feelings. It is doing good to wish good to others, especially if wishes lead to facts. And as the New Year will have passed before the next issue of the OREGONIAN, here's a happy New Year to all its readers and friends, and the rest of mankind.

Good Sense in Politics.

The editorial writer in Harper's Weekly gives us one of the very best of his excellent articles on this subject. It probes to the quick the fallacy which is not very prevalent, however, that it is safe for the Republican party to disband because new issues have arisen. "There is a remark," says that paper, "constantly made by those who were not really opposed to the rebellion, and which is much too often echoed by those who supported the Government with all their hearts, that the old issues are settled. We are exhorted to believe that there is no possible relation between yesterday and to-day, and that those who ten a dozen years ago were forcibly attempting the overthrow of the Government or quietly conniving at it, may be now safely trusted with its control. There is no profounder error nor one which the country will more bitterly rue if it should become more general. The old issues are not settled, simply because the old spirit survives. The action of Gov. Walker, of Virginia, in regard to the President's Thanksgiving proclamation, and the Kuklux demonstrations in Kentucky, show decisively if any proof were needed, that just in the degree that the Democratic party in the Northern States apparently [illegible] the ugly spirit at the South makes itself felt. That it would attempt the restoration of slavery need not be supposed, but that it would be as mischievous as it could be cannot be doubted. It would keep the country in perpetual agitation. It would abuse the colored population in every practicable way. It would threaten and swagger as the old [illegible] and the country would most seriously deplore having treated the [illegible] theoretically and not practically.

There is one thing and one thing only, which is the [illegible] of that national [illegible] is now imperatively necessary, and that is the constant conviction upon the part of all [illegible] that the country fully [illegible] it did in the war, and means to secure it to the utmost. To insist that the old issues are settled, that the rebellion was suppressed five years ago, that slavery is dead, and the reconstruction acts are law, and that, therefore, it is wise to elect Jefferson Davis to the Senate or to take Toombs into the Cabinet, or to turn over the country to a Copperhead administration, because some of its members hold certain opinions upon certain other subjects, is to trifle with the very gravest peril. Those Republicans, therefore, who upon a theory that revenue reform is the most vital and paramount of all issues would willingly bring in the Democratic party under cover of voting for [illegible] free traders against Republican protectionists, assume a very heavy responsibility. Suppose a representative denies the validity of the amendments, shares the Democratic [illegible] hostility to the negro, and hatred of the Southern Union men and winks at the revival of the old Southern spirit of jealousy of the Union, and of the principles and tendency of the Republican party, how is he less [illegible] because he may be a free trader?"

It is not a great many years since 1868, when General Grant was elected. We trust that Revenue Reformers, who are also Republicans, have not forgotten the scenes and speeches in the Tammany nominating convention, and throughout the Southern States [illegible]. In prospect of the probable success of the Democratic party, which they had again proved their power to control before they had washed off the blood of the war, the Southern leaders showed precisely what they were and what they meant. It was the perception of that fact which so stirred the country, and so triumphantly elected General Grant. The election drove those leaders into their lair. The spirit of insurbordination withdrew into silence. But it is not extinct. The least favorable sign shows it to be just as much alive as ever; and when the next Presidential contest begins those leaders will appear with the same battle-cry. And if the Republicans have permitted themselves to separate, under the delusion that old issues are settled, they will very probably find that the old issues will settle them."

The N. Y. Herald remarks it as a significant fact that a resolution suggesting as the proper sort of revenue reform, the abolition of all internal revenue taxes, except as to alcoholic liquors and tobacco, has been adopted in the House by a vote of one hundred and sixty-four to five. This vote, the Herald observes, shows that the new party of so-called revenue reformers, in their hue and cry for free trade, are on the wrong track, and that the general public sentiment of the country first calls for that other sort of revenue reform which will dismiss internal tax assessors. Until we get rid of the internal revenue customs, therefore, these free trade reformers will have to wait.

The Herald has abused Senator Williams for introducing a resolution in the Senate to prevent the school lands of this State from being gobbled up by hungry corporations, and to put a check upon such swindling enterprises as that bought through the last Legislature by a party of land grabbers. But since its attack on Senator Williams the Herald has learned that Congressman Smith has introduced a similar resolution in the House! It is safe to guess that the Herald, had it foreseen this, would not have been quite so fast. When Williams introduced it in the Senate it was called a "Holladay measure." What is it since Smith introduced it in the House?

In their address to the people of Georgia, the Democratic State Committee say they would not, if they could, take away the political rights of the negroes. To this the Atlanta Intelligencer earnestly objects, saying that this attempt on the part of the Executive Committee to commit the Democracy of the State to the surrender of one of the great principles of the party is not only a mistake on their part, but will tend to disarm Northern Democrats, who have openly and manfully opposed the conferring of political rights upon the negroes.

Buoys on the Columbia River.

The following correspondence will explain itself:

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12, 1870.

W. B. SHUBRICK, Rear Admiral U. S. Navy, Chairman Light House Board—DEAR SIR: I have examined your report for 1870, which you were kind enough to send me, through Major Elliott. Please accept my thanks for the same.

I would respectfully call your attention to the importance of a Fog Whistle at Point Reyes, on the sea coast of California, and on our coast route to Oregon. The importance of this can hardly be overestimated. I would also suggest the importance of buoys in greater number, to be placed in Woody Island channel, and at or near St. Helens, on the Columbia river.

Very respectfully yours,
H. W. CORBETT.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE LIGHT HOUSE BOARD,
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14, 1870.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 12th instant, and to say that estimates have been submitted for fog signals for the Pacific coast, and the attention of the Inspector of the Twelfth Light House District has been specially called to the Woody Island Channel and at or near St. Helen's, Columbia river, and buoys ordered to be placed there.

Our main difficulty in regard to the buoyage of that coast arises from a want of correct charts and information.

Very respectfully,
THORNTON A. JENKINS,
Naval Secretary.

HON. H. W. CORBETT, U. S. Senate.

U. S. Senator J. M. Howard, of Michigan, is a candidate for re-election, his present term expiring on the 4th of March. The telegraph announces from Washington that among his competitors "is a gentleman from the Western part of the State, whose name is also Howard." This gentleman, whom the Washington correspondent does not seem to know, is the Hon. Wm. A. Howard, a distinguished lawyer of Michigan, and for six years a member of Congress. In 1856 Speaker Banks appointed him Chairman of the famous Committee of the House of Representatives to investigate the affairs of the Territory of Kansas. President Grant appointed him Minister to China to succeed J. Ross Browne, but he declined. Northern and Western Michigan have never had a Senator. Both Senators are now from the vicinity of Detroit. Mr. William A. Howard is a very able man and will make a good Senator if elected.

There appeared in the Akron, Ohio, Germania a betrothal (such as is customary among the Germans in the old country) a translation of which is given below. The happy lover is foreman in the Germania office:

> The betrothal of our daughter, ANDREA, with the printer, Mr. WM. MILLER, in Akron, Ohio, is hereby given notice of.
> H. GENTZ AND WIFE.
>
> Cleveland, November 12, 1870.
> ANDREA GENTZ—WILHELM MILLER.
> BETROTHED.
> Cleveland, Ohio. Akron, Ohio.

The Cincinnati Commercial, which is a strongly Democratic paper, warns its readers that "the downfall of Grant's Administration must not be looked for on account of the defection of certain individuals or political cliques. It reminds them that Gen. Jackson passed through personal attacks ten times as severe. "The resignation of Calhoun men in his Cabinet, especially of Branch of North Carolina, and McPherson of Georgia, was an ordeal, compared to which Cox's resignation is a flea-bite. His Maysville veto lost him scores of friends, who held commanding positions. And so it was throughout his administration; and yet he left Washington the most popular man in the United States in April, 1837. The history of Jackson's Administration proves that power is not taken from Presidents because they displease this or that individual or coterie of individuals, it is lost by one process, and that is through the positive measures of the Administration itself."

At Baker City on the 16th, the temperature was one deg. below zero.

The Secretary of the Wallamet Valley and Cascades Mountain Road Company advertises to sell 20,000 acres of land in Linn county next month.

The Mountaineer of the 24th says: [illegible] Clark, of Canyon City, arrived in town [illegible] day. He reports that all mining operations have ceased on account of cold weather. The snow on the road over the mountains was not over six inches in depth. As yet cattle were doing well, but it was thought that if it did not thaw soon they would suffer for want of water, as the small streams are entirely frozen up.

From the Baker City Democrat: J. H. Johnson, Superintendent of the Burnt River Ditch Company, called last Monday. The Ditch, in whose construction and proper completion so many are vitally interested, is progressing satisfactorily, and will be completed early next spring, as was originally contemplated. In one locality a tunnel has to be constructed; and the requisite force will soon be set at work thereon.

The Mountaineer complains grievously because the Dalles and Sandy road bill failed. The freezing of the Columbia, with the upper country cut off from communication, causes the Mountaineer to re open on this subject. It says that in the passage of the bill for the locks at the Wallamet falls and the defeat of the thousand times more meritorious "Dalles and Sandy road bill" the majority in the last Legislature, damned themselves with the people of Eastern Oregon beyond redemption.

THE TERRITORIES.

Some of the members of the Idaho Legislature get mileage for nearly 2,000 miles travel.

The new silver district about sixty miles southwest of Salt Lake City, is developing grandly. Many rich ledges have been opened.

The laws of Idaho are to be codified. Judge Whitson, J. Rosborough, and R. E. Foote have been appointed Code Commissioners.

A man named James Bourland recently arrived at Boise City from Loon Creek, with his feet frozen. He will probably lose them.

The Boise Statesman says no amount of self-deception can disguise the fact that Idaho Territory has shrank for some time past in population and wealth.

At Walla Walla, fresh pork sells at twenty cents per pound, while wheat is worth only fifty cents per bushel. Has the brilliant idea of trying to convert wheat into pork never occurred to farmers up there?

Montana has an emigrant aid society under the charge of Gov. Potts, Gen. Washburne, Colonel Add. Saunders and other prominent officials and citizens of Montana. Ex Gov. Ashley is lecturing in the States upon "Montana and her resources."

They have had such bad luck with their officers in Boise county, Idaho, that a bill has been introduced in the Legislature requiring the absence of all county officers of that county for not less than 12 months in each year in '71 and '72. It is hoped the people by this expedient can save some of their revenues.

A Deer Lodge (Montana) paper has this item: Numerous squads of North American savages, genus lazium devilum, returning from their semi-annual hunt, have been in town during the week. They are well ladened with buffalo meat, and appear to have had a successful hunt. They bring no further news about the English Mission.

CURRENT NOTES.

This is the calm and kindly way in which the London Saturday Review begins its notice of Gen. Butler's warlike manifesto before the Boston Lyceum: "General Butler's insolent speech at Boston, although it is below intellectual criticism and moral censure, may perhaps portend mischief."

"The wickedest woman in New York" has reformed, and following the example of John Allen, thrown open her house as a house of prayer. The result of the reformation of Allen and the revival in Water street which followed does not encourage one to hope much from the present religious excitement there.

The re enumeration of the population of Philadelphia has been completed, and the result proves the substantial accuracy of the census taken during the summer. The first count showed a population of 657,150 and the last 673,726, which is a smaller increase than might reasonably have been expected from the difference in the time at which the two censuses were taken.

THE FINEST YET!—The Oriflamme brought for B. L. STONE the nicest lot of Sets, Rings, Lockets and other Jewelry ever exhibited in this market. Also a fine lot of Silverware—Gold and Silver Watches, &c., &c. As their stock of elegant goods arrived so late they will be sold very low. Persons wishing to make some good bargains will do well to call.

THE people are all looking about for something extra nice for holiday dinners (and everybody has a holiday dinner). G. M. MARTIN is the man of the time, and is fully prepared for the emergency. For proof consult his splendid stock of Family Groceries, Fresh Vegetables, Butter and Eggs, Salt Fish, Chinook Salmon Bellies, Halibut Fins, Game of every description, all the Fruits of the season, Honey, and Nick-nacks too numerous to mention.

Why is it that Kohn & Fishel keep the largest supply of Clothing in this city?
Because their sales require it.
Why can they afford to sell cheaper than any other house?
Because they buy in large quantities and get them cheaper, and because they are satisfied with small profits and quick returns, which system has brought them an enormous trade, and made them first in their business in the city.

December is here, with her [illegible] and her rain,
And it makes the folks of cold weather complain
Hark ye, dear gent's, [illegible] this need not be so,
You can all be kept warm, for O'NEIL & CO.
Can fit you so nicely, so snug and so warm,
With CLOTHES that are proof 'gainst the bitterest storm,
And they sell them so cheaply, that all who go there,
Unlike Flora McFlimsey, can find something to wear.

NERVOUS HEADACHE, LIVER COMPLAINT, &c., &c.—The brain being the most delicate and sensitive of all our organs, is necessarily more or less affected by all our bodily ailments. A headache is often the first symptom of a serious disease. If the nervous system is affected, there is always trouble at its source in the [illegible]. And it may be here remarked that as the nervous fibre pervades the entire frame, no part of the physical structure can be affected without the nervous suffering sympathetically. Liver Complaint of every type affects the brain. Sometimes the effect is stupor, confusion of ideas, hypochondriasis; sometimes persistent or periodical headache. In any case, the best remedy that can be taken is PLANTATION BITTERS. In headache proceeding from indigestion or biliousness, or both, the stomachic and anti-bilious properties of the preparation will soon relieve the torture, by removing its cause. If the complaint is purely nervous—in other words, if it has originated in the nervous system, and is not the result of sympathy, the BITTERS will be equally efficacious.

A FINE THING FOR THE TEETH.—The fragrant Sozodont has taken a very prominent place among the most approved dentifrices of the day. It is a very popular article for the toilet, highly recommended by all who have used it, as a beautifier and preserver of the teeth, refreshing the mouth, sweetening the breath, and arresting the progress of decay.

AMUSEMENTS.

ORO FINO THEATER.—No one could have seen the play of the "Angel of Midnight," at Oro Fino last evening, without emotions of gratification at the superb manner in which it was mounted and the style in which the several characters were personated. Mrs. Bates does the protean character of the Angel very effectively indeed. Paul Bernam is a character to which Mr. Bates does ample justice. He was suffering terribly last night with a cold which sadly marred his utterance; but he supplied the defect in a great measure by good acting. Mr. Vinson's Baron is a good conception and his personation was unexceptionable. The charlatan Doctor had a representative in the person of Mr. Ellerton, and all these leading characters were well sustained by the others in the cast. To-night, the French drama of "The Iron Mask," in which Mr. Bates personates one of his greatest characters.

PLAZA CONCERT.—Programme of the Twenty-third Infantry Band for December 31st, at 3 o'clock P. M., at the Plaza:

1. The Liberty March.
2. The Spring Polka.
3. Duet from "Lucrezia Borgia"—Donizetti.
4. Quadrille from Lurline.
5. The Bird Waltz.
6. Chorus from "La Traviata"—Verdi.
7. "When the Swallows Homeward Fly."
8. Sabra Galop, from "Grand Duchess."

MATINEE.—At 2 o'clock matinee at Oro Fino, to-day, the drama of "The Angel of Midnight" will be produced—Mrs. Bates in the character of the Angel of Midnight, Love, a Woodcutter, and Death.

RUBBER AND LEATHER BELTING, FARM WAGONS, GRASS SEEDS, ETC., ETC.

The particular attention of the Farming Community is called to our recent importation of Improved MOLINE PLOWS, greatly superior to any other Moline Plow in the Market, notwithstanding a certain firm, somewhat noted for truth and veracity—"so called"—persist in a ...rming that they are "bogus," "California made," etc.

Don't fail to call and look at one of the MOLINE PLOW Co's LATEST MAKE; and we think you will coincide with a Yamhill Farmer; who, after "looking 'round" and hearing the old story about bogus Molines, etc., delivered himself thusly: "Well, Myers, I'll just chance a couple of those new plows, and if they are 'bogus,' that greasy chap above here says, I'll be d—d if I won't take bogus in mine every time."

Next month we expect another shipment of those justly celebrated BAIN WAGONS, (Have now only a few left of the last lot,) STILL FURTHER IMPROVED over all heretofore received. It is not presumption on our part to say that they are head and shoulders above any other Farm wagon in market, in point of material, workmanship and finish, having achieved a reputation throughout the West, and wherever introduced on the Pacific, second to no other wagon. Some of the first sold here three years ago,—have never yet had a tire re-set, and our experience has enabled us to order many changes and improvements over the ordinary make of western wagons to meet the wants and requirements of this coast. We shall sell the BAIN WAGON at the lowest possible price for a first-class wagon, and WARRANT them such, and in this connection beg to caution purchasers not to confound them with "inferior makes" that others are, or may endeavor to sell on the strength of the established reputation of the Bain manufacture, particularly after having made repeated and persistent efforts (without avail) to purchase wagons of Mr. Bain for this market.

The Grave of the Year.

Be composed every thought, and each turbulent motion
That encircle the heart in life's treacherous unrest;
And the hour that to the calm of devotion,
Undisturbed by regrets, unincumber'd with cares!
How cheerless the late blooming face of creation
Weary time seems to pause in its rapid career,
And fatigued with the work of its own desolation,
Looks behind with a smile, on the Grave of the Year.

Hark! the winds whistle rudely—the shadows are closing
That envelop his broad path in the mantle of night;
While pleasure's gay sons are in quiet reposing,
Undisturbed by the wrecks that have number'd his flight.
From yon Temple where fashion's gay tapers are lighted,
Her votaries in crowds, decked with garlands appear,
And as yet their warm hearts, by no spectres affrighted,
Assemble to dance round the Grave of the Year.

Oh, I hate the stale cup, which the idlers have tasted,
When I think of the ills of life's comfortless day,
How the flowers of my childhood their verdure have wasted,
And the friends of my youth have been stolen away,
They think not how fruitless the warmest endeavor,
To recall the kind moments, neglected when near;
When the hours that oblivion has canceled forever,
Are entombed by her hand in the Grave of the Year.

Since the last solemn reign of the day of reflection,
What throngs have retir[illegible] [illegible] breast,
How many have shed the [illegible] of dejection,
And c[illegible] the dim eye in [illegible] of death;
How many have sadden their pilgrimage ended,
Beneath the low pall that encircles their bier;
Or to death's lonely valley have gently descended,
And made her cold bed with the Grave of the Year.

'Tis the year that so late its new beauties disclosing,
Rose bright on the happy, the careless and gay,
Who now on their pillows of dust are reposing,
Where the sod presses damp on their bosoms of clay,
Then talk not of bliss, while her smile is expiring;
Disappointment still drowns it in misery's tear;
Reflect and be wise for the day is retiring,
And to-morrow will dawn on the Grave of the Year.

Yet awhile, and no seasons around us will flourish,
But silence for each her dark mantle prepare,
Where beauty no longer her roses shall nourish,
Nor the lily o'erspread the wan cheek of despair.
And the eye shall with luster unfading be brighten'd,
When it wakes to true bliss in yon orient sphere,
By [illegible] in splendor [illegible] enlighten'd,
Which no more shall go down on the Grave of the Year.

The New Party.

[From the New York Tribune.]

Nearly a year ago, there was a gathering of "Revenue Reformers" in Washington, culminating in a dinner with fluid modifications; whereat certain sympathizing editors and correspondents rejoicingly refreshed themselves. Having safely found their way thence to their respective lodgings, these enlightened [illegible] proceeded to indite letters to their several journals, revealing so much as was deemed prudent and proper of the plans and purposes which had been matured and agreed on by their field-marshals. The more ardent Protectionists in Congress were to be defeated, of course, and the Reformers proposed to inaugurate their crusade by reforming them out of their seats and sending Reformers in their stead—Republicans, if the [illegible] could be cajoled or bullied into [illegible] that sort if not, then Democrats. [illegible] duly copied and called attention to these [illegible] of victories yet unwon.

The program thus agreed on has since been carried out, to the extent of the plunderers' ability. They have, by the disfranchisement of the crippled soldiers in the National Asylum near Dayton, returned Lew. Campbell in place of Gen. Schenck; they have exulted over the defeat of Messrs. Morrell and McCarty by other Protectionists; they have given over Missouri to the Democrats, beaten three or four Republican Congressmen in Illinois, would have beaten Messrs. Kelly of Pa., Bingham of Ohio, Ketcham of N. Y., and several other Republican Protectionists if they could but have polled enough votes. On the whole, they reduced the Republican strength in the next House by ten or a dozen votes, and have a joyful hope of beating two or three more Republicans by Democrats in the States which have yet to choose their representatives. That is not bad, for a beginning.

The moment the November elections were over, a more ambitious programme was put forth. The Chicago Tribune proclaimed, in effect, that old parties and old issues were dead, and that a new organization was destined to sweep the country. A Free Trade Republican was to be chosen Speaker of the next House by the votes of all the Democrats combined with the Revenue Reformers, upon an understanding that the Democrats should have their say about the Committees. The [illegible] Post, St. Louis Democrat, and chorus, assailed Gen. Grant's Administration more openly and virulently than before—The Post exulting over the increased Democratic majority [illegible] at the South, as proof of the unpopularity of the President. For a time, the [illegible]—having eaten another and still better dinner in company—fancied that the world lay weekly at their feet.

But a change has come o'er the spirit of their [illegible]. No ten Republicans elected to the next House can be named who do not scout the idea that they can ever be induced to vote with the Democrats to organize the House adversely to the great body of the Republicans. Nay, more, not half the Democrats are ready to vote for any man as Speaker who is not an avowed Democrat. And it is well understood that, should a majority of the Democrats undertake to plow with any strange heifer under the flag of Revenue Reform, a very strong minority, including nearly all the Pennsylvanians, will stubbornly refuse to be drawn into such a questionable alliance. It is probable that there are, at this moment, as many "Pig Iron Democrats" as Republican Free-Traders elected to the next House.

Hence we note prodigal assurances that the new party is indefinitely postponed—that the Revenue Reformers purpose to fight their battles inside the Republican lines—that they never intended to be other than Republicans, &c., &c. And, whatever they may have intended months ago, it is plain that most of the Reformers now mean to call themselves Republicans for the present.

Well, gentlemen, we submit, your notions of what adherence to a party implies are peculiar. The recent partial successes of the Democratic party are mainly your work. You turned over Missouri to the Democrats; your organs exulted over the defeat of Schenck, secured by Democrats; you have taught your disciples to defeat the great majority of the Republicans in Congress as monopolists and plunderers, and those disciples therefore vote the Democratic ticket. Your nominal adherence to the Republican party can do it no good, so long as you tell the People that most Republicans are intent on subjecting them to extortion and robbery. We are used to such imputations from our open adversaries, and [illegible] by them; but, from men [illegible] our political faith, they are more annoying and offensive.

We think you should decide either to come into the Republican party or stay out of it. You are not in it while you are plotting the defeat of its foremost representatives who are also its regular candidates for re-election. When you talk of them as you have talked this year of Gen. Schenck, Messrs. Morrell, Kelly, &c., those who believe in you will vote against them, even though not expressly urged by you to do so. Better stand somewhere.

The Republican party has suffered quite enough from those who wear its uniform in order to fire more effectively into its ranks. If you cannot support men of undoubted ability and good character who are its candidates, your hearts are elsewhere, and your legs should follow them. Choose your future position for yourselves, but let it be on one side or the other.

"Go" and "Come."—"If you want your business done," says the proverb, "go and do it; if you don't want it done, send some one else." An indolent gentleman had a freehold estate producing about five hundred a year. Becoming involved in debt he sold half the estate, and let the remainder to an industrious farmer for twenty years. About the end of the term the farmer called to pay his rent, and asked the owner whether he would sell his farm.

"Will you buy it?" asked the owner, surprised.

"Yes, if we can agree about the price."

"That is exceedingly strange," observed the gent; "pray tell me how it happens that while I could not live upon twice as much land, for which I paid no rent, you are regularly paying me two hundred a year for your farm, and are able in a few years to purchase it!"

"The reason is plain," was the reply; "you sat still and said, Go; I got up and said Come. You laid in your bed and enjoyed your estate, I rose in the morning and minded my business."—Self-help.

There is no smallpox either among whites or Indians at Lapwai; neither is it known that there is a case within 190 miles of there.

The Newark Courier says that the Democratic press has been very wisely informing the Republicans that the enfranchisement of the negro prevents his being any longer used as a political element, and that therefore, the Republican party must die. "As if," exclaims the editor, "the Republican party ever depended on the negro for its existence, or ever achieved political success through him. So far from it, he has always been an opposition and weakness—except in the late elections, when he gave his vote, out of a very natural feeling of gratitude and love for the party of human justice. He was a big load for us to carry, and now that we have gotten him out of bondage and set him on his feet, we intend to allow him to walk alone and vote according to the dictates of his own feelings and judgment. But on the other hand, the Democrats are determined to not only disenfranchise him, but to practically return him to bondage—if not in the old form, in one quite as effective for their brutal purposes. They deny the validity of the amendments on the same grounds that they denied the right to make war for the preservation of the Union. The crushing of the rebellion was to them an unconstitutional and outrageous act, and hence every constitutional amendment and law intended to secure the results of the war and prevent another rebellion, they pronounce illegal, and to be tolerated only so long as the Democratic party remains in the minority. There is a large and influential class of Democratic papers and speakers which continues to preach the doctrine that 'this is a white man's government,' and must, therefore, forsooth, be robbed of the elements of humanity and justice."

Out of Versailles comes the story of a Prussian soldier caught vigorously thrashing a Jewish resident, when Count Bismarck happened to pass.

"What, then, has he done?" asked the Count, as the soldier stopped to salute him.

"He was abusing the Prussians," replied the soldier.

"Not so," replied the man; "I spoke well of the Prussians—only of Bismarck."

The tittering of the bystanders revealed to the Jew the mistake he had made.

"Let him go," said Bismarck, "greater men than he have done that."

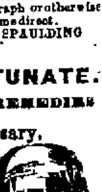
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallowness, [illegible] dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who [illegible], who are suffering under any of these fearful [illegible], should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each [illegible] a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco; Post Office Box 1,957. REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

LAND DEPARTMENT OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd-numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminous with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M. February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government: The party can leave the land if necessary, he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest.

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect.
